2. Total Composite column represents the number of students with final marks resulting from blending the blending of the school submitted mark with the departmental exam mark
3. Total 100% column represents the number of students who wrote the departmental exam for 100%

Not included are departmental exams translated into French

Table 7: Student and School Subject Registrations (2002/2003 School Year)

Description of Course Types:

- 100% department prepared curriculum (designated 10, 20, 30)
- locally modified advanced (designated 10A, 20A, 30A) and locally modified basic (designated 11, 21, 31) which have a minimum of 50% department prepared curriculum
- locally developed courses (designated L) which may be up to 100% local (original) content while still at a level consistent with other department courses for regular education
- part of a recognized International Baccalaureate program (IB)
- part of a recognized Advanced Placement program (AP)
- alternative education (designated 18, 28, 38)
